

Wheat Slumps but Comes Back Strong

Peace Rumors and Government Investigation Causes Flurry in the Chicago Pit Wednesday.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Peace rumors dealt a sudden blow today to high prices of wheat. At the outset as much as eight cents a bushel was knocked off the value of the May delivery in which, however, transactions were relatively small.

The July option in which business chiefly centered, was given a setback of two cents at the opening. May sold as low as $1.57, whereas the close yesterday was $1.63. The break in prices however, was only temporary and soon May wheat touched a new high record $1.65 1/2.

Peace Talk Cause.

Fear of the opening of the Dardanelles had considerable to do with the wildness of the fluctuations in wheat. Reports, though, that several of the chief forts defending the strait had been demolished were not fully credited, and did not have a lasting effect. The same was true of the peace

Both Wheat and Flour Boosted

With only a half of the county's wheat marketed, according to the statement of a local miller, wheat was selling at $1.50 a bushel and flour was retailing at $8.40 a barrel in the Coshocton market Wednesday. The price of wheat jumped ten cents per bushel Wednesday and flour rose forty cents per barrel.

Flour has advanced two dollars a barrel in the Coshocton market since January 1, 1915.

talk, which rested on gossip as to action by financiers likely to be taken by May 1.

During the break, May reached for a moment as low as $1.56 1/2, a fall of 8 1/4c.

On the rebound, May wheat jumped eventually to $1.66, making the range covered by that option nine cents, a swing seldom equaled in so short a time. July dropped five cents to $1.58, but recovered to $1.60 1/2.

The close was unsettled at 4 1/2c and 5 1/4c under last night.

Investigation "Speeded Up."

As a result of the phenomenal activity of the wheat market and the advance in price of bread and other bakery products, the government's investigation of wheat and flour prices became more pressing today.

Subpoenas were ordered issued by Charles F. Clyde, United States district attorney, to bring in the books and records of a number of big grain companies, among them the Armour Grain Co., J. Rosenbaum Grain Co. and Barlett, Frazer & Co. The district attorney, it was announced, desires to investigate their connection with elevator lines in the west and north-west.

The amount of grain handled by the companies since the outbreak of the European war, and how much grain is stored in Chicago elevators at present was said to be the object of the new inquiry.

Club Foot Is Placed in Plaster Cast

An operation to eradicate a deformity from birth was performed upon Howard Touvell, two years old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Touvell, of Wills Creek Wednesday by Drs. Marshall, McClain and Lear. The child was born with a club foot and the deformed member was placed in a plaster cast so that it will be forced to grow straight.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

William Whittemore, who has been suffering from pneumonia at his home in Keene, is reported to be improving rapidly.

GERMANS RENEW THE BATTLE OF SOISSONS

Austro-German Army Ready to Invade Servia.

Paris, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Nish, Servia, to the Balkan News agency says:

"Confirmation has been received of the report that it is the intention of a great Austro-German army, under command of Archduke Eugene of Austria, to attempt a third invasion of Servian territory. These troops have been actually concentrated along a line extending from Tekia to Shitka on the Danube river. Sbitka is the junction point of the Hungarian, Rumanian and Servian frontiers. The attack has been delayed by the rising of the Danube and the Save.

"The Servian general staff is fully confident that the issue will be favorable to Servian arms, as the troops both morally and physically are declared to be in excellent condition."

Peace This Year?

Madrid, Spain, Feb. 2, via London, Feb. 3.—Senor Reveter, who is in close touch with the Spanish foreign office, declared his belief, in a speech in the senate today, that treaty of peace terminating the European war will be signed in the present year.

Girl In Russ Ranks.

Moscow, Feb. 3.—Among the wounded who have arrived in Moscow from the front is Olga Krasnikoff, a girl of 19 years. After taking part in 19 battle in Poland she was wounded in the foot.

The girl enlisted under a man's name and this deception has just been discovered. The Cross of St. George fourth degree, has been awarded to her.

War Will Be Draw?

Washington, Feb. 3.—In the opinion of many men who have been giving the subject a great deal of attention there is a possibility that the outcome of the war in Europe will be a drawn battle. An eminent Japanese, who has an opportunity to study the situation and has had facilities for learning the conditions of both sides, recently informed high officials in Washington that the war must result in a draw game and without any of the big countries being conquered.

This is particularly interesting, as Japan is an ally of Great Britain and in the far east has made war on Germany. Most of the people of the United States feel that if the war is to end as predicted by this Japanese observer it would be a good thing to have it end at once and especially before.

A Lesson of Interest and Profit for the Merchant

Scarcely a day goes by but that some local merchant receives convincing proof that it pays to advertise in The Morning Tribune. Sometimes it pays even better than the merchant himself hopes for.

In Tuesday Morning's Tribune appeared an ad from Golden's Store which contained the following:

WEDNESDAY ONLY
From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m.
50c Cover-All Aprons Wednesday
For 4 Hours Only.
29c

THE MORNING TRIBUNE WAS THE ONLY COSHOCTON PAPER TO CARRY THE ABOVE AD.

Mr. Golden made only one mistake. He announced to the public that he would sell 50c Cover-All aprons Wednesday for 4 hours only, at 29c and to his surprise sold 180 aprons (all he had to offer at 29c) before 1:00 o'clock.

The Tribune advertising solicitor was in the Golden store Wednesday afternoon and heard 6 people call for the aprons after they had been sold out.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT.

Miners Will Not Work Under 47c

Therefore Plans for Arbitration Board to Settle East Ohio Strike Fail.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, FEB. 3.—Miners' officials today told federal conciliators that they were unwilling for miners in the eastern Ohio strike zone to resume work pending arbitration of points in dispute, unless they are given 47 cents a ton, their previous demands, while final settlement is being effected. The mine owners said they were willing to leave the question of wages to the arbitrators yet to be appointed, expressing the belief that all strike difficulties could be arbitrated within two weeks.

These were the positions taken by the miners' officials and operators, respectively, today, in written answers to suggestions made by the federal conciliators, Hywell Davies and Daniel J. Keefe, late yesterday.

Their Hopes Blasted

The conciliators had hoped that the answers of the two parties to the controversy might agree on the wages to be paid miners while a final settlement was being made, and to accomplish this had suggested that the difference between the miners' demands and the operators' offer for wages pending settlement be placed in a bank to the credit of the arbitrators, who would make proper disbursement.

Police Seeking Fugitive Davis

Chief Mapel Wednesday received word from Penitentiary Ward Thomas to be on the look-out for William J. Davis, who escaped from the prison farm at Mt. Vernon Sunday night, where he was serving a life term for the murder of his father, Eli Davis. The murder occurred in 1909 at the Davis home south of this city.

Chief Mapel Wednesday received word from Penitentiary Ward Walker, who was also serving a life sentence on the farm, was received.

Davis' mother and sister both receive their mail at the local post office and the warden in his letter to Chief Mapel says that the fugitive may come to this city.

"Pee Wee" Moore Gets Limit on Three Charges

The stiffest sentence handed out during the present administration fell to George Moore, aged 30, when he pleaded guilty to the charges of petit larceny, resisting an officer and intoxication. On the charge of stealing two skunk pelts from the Coshocton Fur Co. he was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the work house; for intoxication he was fined $5 and costs; for resisting Chief Mapel he was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the work house. The maximum penalty was assessed in every instance and Moore will be kept at the works for more than 3 years.

Moore was given a stiff lecture by the mayor who declared that he was doing his duty to the public by sending the accused up for the long term. He has served time in various work houses and one term in the Ohio penitentiary. After being released from the penitentiary he gave this city a wide birth until a short time ago when he returned and a few days later was fined on the charge of assault.

When he was placed under arrest Tuesday evening by Chief Mapel he resisted strenuously striking the officer once in the eye. He will be taken to the works this morning.

Dr. Bendure Dies After Long Illness

George W. Bendure, aged 54, died at his home on South Lawn avenue Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

For the last five years Mr. Bendure had been a sufferer from creeping paralysis and during the last several months had failed rapidly. Two weeks ago he fell at his home, receiving injuries which it is thought hastened the end.

Mr. Bendure was born July 30, 1860, in Zanesville. November 27, 1884 he was united in marriage with Miss Carrie Leetone, who together with one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Bendure Horn and one grandchild, Cecil Bendure Horn, survive.

Thirty years ago Mr. Bendure located in Coshocton where he engaged in the manufacture of patent medicines and became famous throughout the county and adjoining territory where he sold the remedies which bore his name. Among the most famous of his remedies was Bendure's Pain

Kint, a bottle of which at some time found its way into almost every home in the county and was well known for its healing qualities. He also made headache medicines and liniments which found ready sale. The greater part of the time he was his own salesman, and became a well known figure as he drove about from place to place, thus becoming acquainted with practically every family in the community and was given the honorary title of Doctor.

He later placed the sale of the medicines in the hands of salesmen and embarked in the real estate business. It is said he was the first real estate agent, who ever did any real business in the city. He was very successful in the buying and selling of properties and for a few years was associated with Judge C. B. Hunt in this line of work. He continued in this business until obliged to retire two years ago owing to failing health.

"Coshocton Sold Out to the Devil"

Another Stirring Sermon by Evangelist Hamilton in Which He Does Not Mince Words.

"I never in all my experience have seen a place so completely sold out to the devil as Coshocton. There are thousands in this city who do not draw a full breath for they are not free. They are afraid they will lose business or lose their jobs if they come out for God or oppose the damnable saloon gang. Your name may be on a church book but your heart is far from God and salvation. You still have the goat appetite. I have no goat feed. You will have to go some where else for such rubbish."

With these words Evangelist Hamilton went into his sermon last night with unusual vigor and eloquence. Not once during the entire sermon did he let up but poured forth the hot verbal volleys until the close and time came for the invitation to come forward. Thirty-five converts were made bringing the total up to 720. The slowness of the personal workers in taking hold came in for pointed mention and had some effect during the after meeting.

Quarter Million in Treasury

According to the monthly report of County Treasurer Toole the total amount of money in the treasurer's hands at the close of business February 1 was $268,272.60.

The collection of taxes for the past first half of the year amounted to $224,399.95. Total receipts for the month of January were $133,937.72 and total disbursements for the same month was $46,909.14.

Eggs Are Stale So Merchant Is Given $10 Fine

S. F. Richereck, Wakatomika merchant pleaded guilty to the charge of selling stale eggs when arraigned Tuesday in a justice's court at Akron and was fined $25 and costs. It is alleged that the Wakatomika dealer shipped the eggs to B. F. Markley, an Akron merchant but Richereck claimed that when the eggs were shipped last summer he was ill in bed and knew nothing of the deal.

Wrist Broken in Fall on Ice

Falling on the ice at Sixth and Walnut streets while on her way to the tabernacle, Mrs. Conrad Krampert, aged 67, of North Fifth street, sustained a Colles' fracture of the right wrist. She was taken to the office of Dr. L. C. McCurdy where her fracture was reduced.

None Escape The Searchlight

"Are you a Christian?" asked a young woman who has been taking active part in personal work at the tabernacle during an after meeting several nights ago. "Yes," said the man to whom she had addressed the query. "I believe I am." "Well brother you must be sure," insisted the personal worker.

"After the tabernacle services are over I want you to come to the Grace church some time and hear me preach then you can tell whether or not I'm a Christian," responded the man.

My name," he added, "is Rev. J. S. Seerest."

church and led by the Salvation Army band marched to the tabernacle where seats had been reserved for them. As a special favor they sang "Meet Mother in the Skies" and a male quartet sang "My Mother's Bible" giving "The Church in the Wildwood" for an encore.

Tramp Lodgers Attend

Another delegation whose coming had not been announced was that of about twenty knights of the road who had sought a night's lodging at the city prison. They were brought to the tabernacle by an officer and each one of the aggregation enjoyed the service greatly judging from the close attention. It was the first religious service for a number of them in many years.

A pleasant surprise was the presence of Rev. White, pastor of the Baptist church at Weston, W. Va., where a meeting was conducted by the Hamilton party last fall. He made a short address telling of the wonderful results of the campaign in his city. Rev. White has been forced to build a new church since the revival.

Rev. C. H. Burkhardt was also present last night after an illness of ten days.

Two Move Liens

A motion was filed in common pleas court by A. C. Gray to be made a party defendant in the case of John H. Myers vs Jennie Denner et al. His answer and cross petition filed later set forth a claim of $210 secured by a mechanic's lien. He asks that the property involved be sold and that his claim be protected.

The Zanesville Tile & Decorating Co., also filed answer and cross petition in the case claiming to have a mechanic's lien for $50 on the premises. Both answering defendants were represented by Attorney Levi Williams.

GRAPPLE WITH JOB PROBLEM

Four Bills in Ohio Assembly Seek to Relieve Those Out of Work.

Columbus, Feb. 2.—The legislature has begun in earnest to study the unemployed problem in Ohio, and to seek, not alone a remedy for the present epidemic, but a preventive of future ones.

Four measures for this purpose are before the assembly—the resolution of Representative Bohm, Cuyahoga county, for legislative investigation of unemployment and industrial conditions, with a view to providing state insurance with unemployment; Bohm's bill providing stricter state supervision of private employment agencies, with a penalty of twenty years imprisonment for violations of certain sections; Bohm's resolution for three additional state free employment agencies; and Whitacre's bill appropriating $2,000 for establishment of these additional agencies.

Bohm's resolution for legislative investigation empowers probers to cover every phase of the industrial situation; to confer with state and federal industrial commissions; to study laws of other states and nations providing unemployment insurance by which men out of work are paid from a state fund.

Sentiment is unanimous for passage of Representative Whitacre's bill providing $5,000 for state employment agencies in industrial centers like Akron, Youngstown and in Springfield.

Chairmen of all house committees have been instructed by legislative leaders to waste little time on a lot of unimportant bills, and to get to work on the real legislation of the session. This step was taken to shorten what now promises to be a very protracted session.

MORGAN'S TESTIMONY.

Says He Has No Solution to Offer For Industrial Unrest.

New York, Feb. 2.—J. P. Morgan told the United States commission on industrial relations that he had no opinions to offer on a great many of the subjects with which the present inquiry into the causes of social and industrial unrest is dealing, and that it was for others to say what shall be done in alleviating conditions complained of. In the course of his examination he held to the position that as a director of large corporations his responsibility for labor conditions extends only to the selection of men competent to handle those problems.

In general he disclosed the attitude that in case of conflict between the interests of capital and labor the issue must be decided, where neither statute nor moral law can be evoked, upon the merits of the particular case. He said he would be glad to advise the commission as to what it should recommend to congress.

He disagreed entirely with the statement of S. M. Untermyer that the majority of the railroads of this country are controlled by two groups of bankers saying that he could not speak for Kuhn, Loeb & Co., but that so far as his own banking house was concerned, if any such control existed he had never noted it.

Witness was of the opinion that the present social and industrial unrest would decrease as conditions got better. He added: "And they are getting better."

Asked what is the part of the employer Mr. Morgan said that every man must decide for himself. "Witness believed in organization on a large scale for increasing production and efficiency."

"Then," he was asked, "why should not a great organization such as the steel corporation deal with a great organization of labor?" "The union has no right," he replied, "to tell the steel corporation whom it shall employ. They have a right to cease to be employed by that company."

Capt Prudum Is Now a Benedict

Coshocton friends of Capt. Prudum, formerly head of the local Salvation Army, who was transferred to Dayton, O., several weeks ago, will be interested to know that he took unto himself a wife last week. According to word received by friends in this city, Capt. Prudum and Capt. Ethel Jones were united in marriage at the bride's home in Pittsburgh. The happy couple will have the best wishes of the groom's many Coshocton friends and acquaintances.

A Stereoptican Lecture on Japan at Army Citadel

The local corps of the Salvation Army and friends are looking forward with much interest to the forthcoming visit to Coshocton of Col. Bullard, who during his long service with the Army in various parts of the world and especially in Japan, has become one of its most famous workers.

Col. Bullard took up the Army's work in the Flower Kingdom 18 years ago and had remarkable success in that field. He is now on a tour of the United States, giving his lecture on "The Work of the Salvation Army in Japan," the same being illustrated by a series of stereopticon slides, all providing a splendid evening's entertainment. He will appear at the local citadel on the evening of Wednesday, February 17.

Rip Van Winkle at Mystic Today

"Rip Van Winkle" will be the attraction at the Mystic Theatre today.

The picturization of his father's "Rip Van Winkle" which Thomas Jefferson has made for B. A. Rolfe Photo Plays, Inc., preserves in every way the atmosphere of the Joseph Jefferson production. At the same time it utilizes the resources of the most modern form of screen projection. The story itself is as standard as that of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

In order to preserve the original atmosphere of the old Joseph Jefferson "Rip Van Winkle," Thomas Jefferson made his scenario from the manuscript of his father. The elder Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle" is well remembered, was based upon the slight story in Washington Irving's Sketch Book.

While these two things were in Thomas Jefferson's mind, namely, the best utilization of the resources of the screen and the camera and the retaining of the atmosphere of the Joseph Jefferson play, Thomas Jefferson thought that both could be best obtained by going to the Catskills for his picturization.

Accordingly Thomas Jefferson took a company to a remote region of the Catskills, near the village of Palenville. Tourists constantly point out scenes near Palenville with which is associated the mythical character of "Rip Van Winkle."

Here in the scenes on the original Rip, Jefferson enacted before the camera the story of the twenty-year sleeper. That he might enter into the spirit of his father's original production, the son wore Joseph Jefferson's costume. Even the gun he carries in the picturization belonged to his father. His suiters were those of his grandfather, Joseph Jefferson the Third, who played a version of Rip for 14 years.

which the conferees are debating has the most to do with the wage scale. The operators' proposal to arbitrate, submitted last week, provided that "all questions be left to the arbiters," and that the equivalent of last year's scale be paid miners while a settlement was being effected. The counter proposal of the miners provided that the settlement be on a run-of-mine basis, and that miners should be paid 47 cents a ton while settlement was being negotiated by the arbiters.

The wage question could not be arbitrated, they said, "because the state law provides for a flat rate."

The operators contend the split rate conforms to the law.

The Miners' Plan
Here is the plan offered by miners officials to Hywell Davis and Daniel J. Keefe, federal conciliators:

1: Mines shall be operated on a gross weight basis in a similar manner to the mines in the Cambridge district in Ohio.

2: Prices for mining dead work, including prices for the removal of soapstone and slate in working places and a uniform scale of wages for outside day labor shall be referred to an arbitration board.

3: The Board shall be constituted by two men selected by the operators and two by the miners. These four shall pick a fifth as an umpire, and to him all disputes questions shall be referred for decision. The decision of the board shall be final and binding during the contract period ending March 31, 1916.

4: Pending a decision, miners in the east Ohio district shall resume operations at the prevailing mining prices now paid throughout Ohio, viz: 67 6-10 cents a ton for pick mining and 47 cents a ton for machine mining.

5: This plan of arbitration is made subject to the approval of the miners.

After the plan had been read, the operators asked time to discuss it between themselves, and retired to talk it over.

The prices asked by the miners pending the settlement are the same as those they have been fighting for.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle, healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

War Pictures at The Utahna

The Utahna theatre will show an interesting picture Saturday known as the History of the World's Greatest War. This is a tremendously thrilling, vividly sensational and entirely authentic history of the gigantic war now raging in Europe. These pictures were made on gruesome European battlefields amid the dismal ruins of Old World cities. The pictures were taken for the Hearst newspapers in conjunction with the Selig Film Company.

STEEL TRUST BUSY.

Plants Restore Twenty-five Per Cent of Working Force to Jobs.

New York, Feb. 3.—The number of men employed by the United States Steel corporation has been increased 25 per cent since December. The volume of business has increased a similar percentage during the same period.

The company employs upward of 200,000 men in good times and has had as high as 225,000 workers on its payrolls. The re-employment of 25 percent of its normal force is therefore a matter of great moment.

How long it will be before the full force can be taken on will depend upon the course of general business. At present recovery is proceeding.

The corporation, influenced in part by a desire to relieve by practical means the unemployment situation, is following an optimistic policy in the matter of augmenting its working force.

Other big concerns have recently inaugurated a similar policy in the hope that improvement in the labor position will tend to facilitate a revival in general trade and activity.

The railroads, too, are placing increasing number of contracts and strengthening their forces wherever feasible.

A Handwriting Test.

"It is a curious fact," said a prominent handwriting expert the other day, "that if a document were put before me and I were asked the sex of the writer I should probably fail. People generally are accustomed to think that the masculine or feminine temperament will readily betray itself in writing. But I assure you such is not the case. Bold, black and firm penmanship will frequently be found the characteristic of a woman, while delicate writing, indicating a lively fancy, expected in a woman, will belong to a member of the opposite sex. You can test this statement for yourself. Take, say, twenty envelopes written by people you know and number them carefully. Pass them around and see how many will name correctly the sex of the writers. You will seldom find that more than one-third of the guesses will be right."

THEATRES

FOR NAPOLEON AND

FRANCE AT MYSTIC

The Mystic theatre offers a great picture today in "For Napoleon and France." George Kleine's latest big phot-drama feature success is called "For Napoleon and France." Although the title is more of a romance based on historical fact and carries with it more entertainment and enjoyment than the mere visualization of a few dry historical facts. The life of Napoleon was full of adventure and incident, and it is around one of these this charming new photodrama is constructed.

Lieutenant Larive, an officer under Napoleon, finds himself stationed at a point in the south of France close by the home of a near relative. In order to be near him, his wife and two children undertake a dangerous journey across country, but are waylaid by bandits on the way. In the ensuing conflict the wife dies and the two children, Robert and Rina, are left alone to wander in the forest. They are finally found and adopted by kindly peasants and grow to maturity under their affectionate care. After a futile search, Lieutenant Larive returns to the army and by his reckless bravery attracts the attention of Napoleon. He advances rapidly in the service and becomes one of Napoleon's trusted Marshalls.

TRIP TO NEW YORK.

One of the most attractive novelties in the accomplishment of the motion picture travel art ever flashed on an Oil City screen afforded pleasure, instruction and recreation for two packed houses at the Opera House Thursday. "A Trip to New York," the premiere release of the Famous Cities Motion Picture Co. afforded unadulterated delight in every change of scene. There were 500 in all and the subjects included everything from the Brooklyn bridge to Riverside drive. All the famous piles that distinguish the nation's metropolis were shown. The films were new and clear.—Oil City Tribune.

The same show will be at the Sixth Street Theatre Friday and Saturday.

SUES FORMER PASTOR.

Akron Widow Declares Ritchie Reneged On Marriage Proposal.
Akron, O., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Zella M. Gilbert, thirty and pretty, who filed a breach of promise suit against Rev. George H. Ritchie, former Baptist minister here, $10,000, said she valued her heart at several millions. Ritchie, she said, was getting on cheap at $100.00 for treating it.
"Mr. Ritchie was the most ardent man I ever had," Mrs. Gilbert declared. "He denied me the proposed marriage to me, but I've been married twice and I ought to know a proposal when I hear one. He even said we would go to Palm Beach to spend our honeymoon, and asked my dressmaker if she could dress me well enough to appear there."
Ritchie left the ministry six years ago and entered the real estate business. He denies all charges of Mrs. Gilbert's petition.

Squelches a Fake.

Rome, Feb. 3.—Ex-Premier Giovanni Giolitti denies reports of a plot to overthrow the cabinet with the object of averting Italian intervention in the war and securing the Trentino, said to have been offered by Austria through Prince Von Baulow, German ambassador here, as compensation.

COMPENSATION LAW TO STAND

Committee Shelves Bill Initiated by Insurance Companies.

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Every member of the house labor committee voted to postpone indefinitely the initiated bill which sought to permit liability insurance companies to compete with the state in workmen's compensation insurance. The recommendation of the committee is likely to seal the fate of the bill.

"This simply means the carrying out of our party pledges," said Representative Henry Ott of Cincinnati in seconding the motion of Representative Chapman for burial of the bill.

Long discussions, during which liability insurance company speakers charged that the state compensation insurance fund was insolvent and that a state monopoly was repugnant to the spirit of the American government, featured the hearing before the committee. E. W. Bryson of Columbus, was among the proponents of the initiated measure.

Opposition to the measure was unique in that union labor representatives and officials of the Ohio Manufacturers' association joined hands in favor of continuation of the present workmen's compensation system. Secretary Malcolm Jennings and General Counsel D. J. Ryan of the manufacturers urged that the system be given a thorough try-out before change.

In California, where women vote, the wages of the women clerks in the civil service have been made equal to those of the men. In England the postal service has just spent $5,000,000 raising the pay of its men clerks and has at the same time reduced the pay of its women clerks so that they now get half what the men do.—Women's Political World.

Stahley Is Nosed Out by Johnston

A foul on Stahley and Johnston finishing without a break resulted in the latter winning a match on the Park View alleys Wednesday night by a margin of 12 pins. In the five games Johnston rolled a total of 846 to Stahley's 834. Johnston rolled with consistency while Stahley showed up like an "in and out."

In the first game Stahley, finishing the game with six straight strikes rolled 221 and secured a lead of 70 over Johnston who only negotiated 151. Stahley came back with 110 while Johnston made a part of the lead by getting 171. Stahley stayed far from the head pin in the third game and finished with 119 when Johnston went into the lead with 174. In the fourth game Stahley evened up the game by getting 172 to Johnston's 160 but in the last game when Stahley had a good chance of winning he fouled and lost what amounted to 14 pins. He finished with 182 and Johnston rolled 190. The score:

J. ... 151 171 174 160 190 846

TABERNACLE

Day." All elderly people invited.
Sunday afternoon. Men only.
"A Losing Game."

Sunday evening. Subject, "The Devil's Prayer." Following is a portion of the sermon:

"A PERSONAL CALL"

Text, John 11:23. "The Master is here and calleth for thee. As soon as thou hearest that he is here, and cometh quickly unto him."

"Lazarus was dead. His sisters, Martha and Mary were mourning over his death. Christ came on the scene and said to Martha: 'He that believeth on me though he were dead, yet shall he live.' When Martha declared her faith in Christ, she went to Mary and said, 'The Master is here and calleth for thee.'"

"First Christ is here and calleth for the backslider. He is saying, 'He turn unto me and I will heal all your backslidings.' Turn, O backslider, children, for I am married to you. I read of a little boy who was riding from Sunday school on the street car, holding in his hand a card with the picture text: 'Have faith in God.' The wind blew the card out of the window and he cried out, 'I have lost my faith in God. How many, alas, have lost their faith and joy in God. A man wrote me a letter and said, 'I am just as miserable as a man can be. I have been living in hell for more than two years. I was a minister of the church. I loved Christ and was zealous in His work. I loved the Word of God and studied it. I have had the unspeakable joy of leading others to Christ. I have my family altar go down. My children drifted away from me. I became careless about my studies as a Christian. I am bowed down under the weight of my sins and the awful burden of the consciousness of what I have been and that I know that my God and I are not on good terms.' When I asked a woman the cause of her husband's backsliding, she said, 'He began to drift when he opened his store on Sunday. When he began to sell merchandise on the Lord's day. Others have said to me, 'I began to drift when I attended base ball on the Lord's day.' When I began to substitute the Sunday news

In Five Minutes No Sick Stomach, Indigestion, Gas

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

paper for my Bible. Others have said, 'I began to drift when some one made sport of my stand for Christ, and it chilled my heart.' Others have said, 'I began to grow cold toward Christ and my Christian duties, when I became anxious to make money.' Many have said to me, 'I began to drift when I began to play cards in fashionable clubs. At first I was life as a Christian, but it caused me to drift.' Others have said, 'I lost my joy as a Christian when I danced; the Bible lost its charm for me and I lost my desire to pray.' It is no wonder that people backslide away from Christ, and many out of the church and from religious life when they get mixed up with the devil like that.

"Second, The Master is here and is calling for the doubter. I am interested in an honest doubter. I have no time for the trifler. I know there is hope for a person who has an honest desire to know about spiritual things. Honesty of heart will lead any man into the truth who will seek after it. Christ said, 'Ye will not come unto me that ye might have life.' People are dying in their sins because they will not come to Him. If any man will do His will, he shall know the doctrine. He shall know that the promises of God are sure if he will do the will of God. One of the most earnest Christians I know told me how he used to doubt what the Christians said about their joy and satisfaction in serving God. He was a good moral man with a great prejudice against Christ. He said, 'I always boasted about my good moral life. But with all my morality I knew that would not save me. I knew my wife had something I did not have.'"

"Third, The Master is here and is calling for the unsaved. Some one says, 'I am not a great sinner.' You have committed the greatest sin possible when you have rejected Jesus Christ. All manner of sin can be forgiven if you come to Christ, but you can never be forgiven if you do not come. The curse of your sins will fall upon you, Christ said, 'If you believe not on me you shall die in your sins.' Faure was one whom France desired to honor with her highest officers, assassins' bullet struck him one day, but striking a rib, the doctors said it did no great harm. When his name was on the lips of every Frenchman he was sitting in the presence of his family and he gasped for breath. He said, 'O, for a breath of air. Give me air.' When his family gathered to his assistance he was gone. Four years had passed before the bullet had done its deadly work. But it did it. But it did it. Your sin must be put away from you. You must be cleansed. You must be forgiven. The wages of sin is death.

THOUSANDS MADE IDLE.

Flood Waters at Pittsburgh Put Mills Out of Commission.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 3.—The flood, which inundated the low lying sections along the Allegheny and Ohio rivers, began receding slowly, and Forecaster Henry W. Pennywitt declared all danger had passed.

Some suffering was reported from the flooded districts, but policemen in boats took food and fuel to families who had been imprisoned in the upper stories of their homes. There was little actual damage along the rivers, however, warning having been given in ample time for precautionary measures.

Thousands of men were thrown out of work when mills along the Allegheny river were flooded, but it was believed they would be able to return to work within a few days.

According to the police, no lives have been lost in the flood, although there have been many narrow escapes. A report to the police said that two women frantically calling for help, were seen on a houseboat which was being swept down the Allegheny river. The boat was not located and the rumor was generally doubted.

Wheeling Island Submerged.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 3.—Inflating a property loss in this city and vicinity estimated at $200,000, the Ohio river reached its crest. The drop in temperature which struck the valley had the effect of constricting the flow to some extent and the crest was about two feet lower than had been expected. Practically every industrial plant in Wheeling was forced to suspend and all movable equipment on lower floors was taken to places of safety. All railroad and streetcar lines are seriously affected. About three-fourths of Wheeling Island is completely submerged, with the water reaching to the second floors of houses located at the lowest points.

Storm Cost Is Heavy.

New York, Feb. 3.—At least $500,000 damage was done to property by the storm which swept up the Atlantic coast, and seven deaths were caused in the New York district. Four of these seven storm victims were drowned when the steam dredge Eastern was sunk by the high wind in the Fort Jefferson, Long Island, harbor. Fifteen thousand men were at work in the streets of this city removing the snow, but their work was made difficult by the colder weather which has turned the slush to solid ice.

Swell at Steubenville.

Steubenville, O., Feb. 3.—The Ohio river is at flood stage with forty-two feet of water expected. All industrial plants along the river have suspended operations. Parts of all river towns in this county are flooded. Railroads and traction lines north and south of this city have quit traffic.

Governor Will Not Interfere.

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Governor Williams will not remove Mayor Karl Keller of Toledo, neither will he try Keller on charges of personal misconduct. It was learned at the governor's office.

TIDE OF VICTORY TURNS.

Russians Claim Big Gains in the Vicinity of Warsaw.

Petrograd, Feb. 3.—Fierce fighting continues in the district west of Warsaw, and the tide of victory is now said to be flowing toward the Russians, as a result of the arrival there of fresh troops. Dispatches from Warsaw estimate the Russian reinforcements in this region at 100,000 men, and an official statement issued here stated that troops taken by the Germans in the early fighting had been recaptured.

While general fighting centers in the fighting west of Warsaw, the military experts read the news that another invasion of Hungary is in full swing as of greater importance from a strategic standpoint. The Russian general staff reports that large forces of cavalry are now approaching Budapest, the capital of Hungary.

The advancing Cossacks have practically separated the Austro-German forces in Bukovina from those in western Galicia. Continuation of this great cavalry movement will permit the Russians to attack in the rear the Teutonic troops now on the Bukovina front.

Russian successes in the region of Mlawa, northern Poland, are also announced in the official statement. While it is admitted the Russian drive against Thorn has been checked by the great masses of German troops hurried to the front along the lower Vistula, official confidence is expressed that the situation in northern Poland will again turn to the benefit of the czar's troops.

Minister Favors New Boxing Law

AKRON, O., Feb. 3.—Rev. Howard S. MacAyeal, pastor of the First Congregational church, today endorsed the movement inaugurated by George Schneider, secretary of the Cleveland athletic club, for the passage of a law governing the boxing game and the appointment of a boxing commission to rule the sport in Ohio.

In a sermon Sunday morning the minister reppled prize-fighting. He said today he was opposed to prize-fighting but thought that inasmuch as boxing bouts are legal, legislation governing the sport should be passed.

Reputable clubs, said athletic organizations throughout the state are taking an active interest in proposed legislation, looking toward the establishment of a State Athletic Commission to control the boxing sport.

In a letter to the minister from Secretary Schneider of the Cleveland Athletic club, he is asked to use his influence with Summit county representatives and senators for the passage of such legislation at the present term. Dr. MacAyeal was favorably impressed with the following paragraph from Schneider's letter:

"Under the proposed boxing bill, only responsible clubs and athletic organizations with a bona fide and sufficient membership, and who, by virtue of ownership or lease, have their own club quarters would receive licenses for the holding of boxing matches or exhibitions. Five per cent. of the gross receipts will go to the general tax fund of the state, and a substantial surety bond would be required from all such clubs for the enforcement of all rules and conditions."

"Such a law would be an excellent thing," said the minister. "It would abolish all fly-by-night clubs and prove a protection to the public as well as the men who box. I think Secretary Schneider's plan for the control of boxing is very worthy of consideration."

Syrup of Figs for Cross, Sick Feverish Child

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what aids your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmner's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle, healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmner & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

War Pictures at The Utahna

The Utahna theatre will show an interesting picture Saturday known as the History of the World's Greatest War. This is a tremendously thrilling, vividly sensational and entirely authentic history of the gigantic war now raging in Europe. These pictures were made on gruesome European battlefields amid the dismal ruins of Old World cities. The pictures were taken for the Hearst newspapers in conjunction with the Selig Film Company.

STEEL TRUST BUSY.

Plants Restore Twenty-five Per Cent of Working Force to Jobs.
New York, Feb. 3.—The number of men employed by the United States Steel corporation has been increased 25 per cent since December. The volume of business has increased a similar percentage during the same period.

The company employs upward of 200,000 men in good times and has had as high as 225,000 workers on its payrolls. The re-employment of 25 percent of its normal force is therefore a matter of great moment.

How long it will be before the full force can be taken on will depend upon the course of general business. At present recovery is proceeding.

The corporation, influenced in part by a desire to relieve by practical means, the unemployment situation, is following an optimistic policy in the matter of augmenting its working forces.

Other big concerns have recently inaugurated a similar policy in the hope that improvement in the labor position will tend to facilitate a revival in general trade and activity.

The railroads, too, are placing increasing number of contracts and strengthening their forces wherever feasible.

A Handwriting Test.
"It is a curious fact," said a prominent handwriting expert the other day, "that if a document were put before me and I were asked the sex of the writer I should probably fail. People generally are accustomed to think that the masculine or feminine temperament will readily betray itself in writing, but I assure you such is not the case. Bold, black and firm penmanship will frequently be found the characteristic of a woman, while delicate writing, indicating a lively fancy, expected in a woman, will belong to a member of the opposite sex. You can test this statement for yourself. Take, say, twenty envelopes written by people you know and number them carefully. Pass them around and see how many will name correctly the sex of the writers. You will seldom find that more than one-third of the guesses will be right."

Argentina has become a great market for sanitary appliances.

THEATRES

FOR NAPOLEON AND FRANCE AT MYSTIC

The Mystic theatre offers a great picture today in "For Napoleon and France." George Kleine's latest big phot-drama feature success is called "For Napoleon and France." Although the title is more of a romance based on historical fact and carries with it more entertainment and enjoyment than the mere visualization of a few dry historical facts. The life of Napoleon was full of adventure and incident, and it is around one of these this charming new photodrama is constructed.

Lieutenant Larive, an officer under Napoleon, finds himself stationed at a point in the south of France close by the home of a near relative. In order to be near him, his wife and two children undertake a dangerous journey across country, but are waylaid by bandits on the way. In the ensuing conflict the wife dies and the two children, Robert and Rina, are left alone to wander in the forest. They are finally found and adopted by kindly peasants and grow to maturity under their affectionate care. After a futile search, Lieutenant Larive returns to the army and by his reckless bravery attracts the attention of Napoleon. He advances rapidly in the service and becomes one of Napoleon's trusted Marshalls.

TRIP TO NEW YORK.
One of the most attractive novelties in the accomplishment of the motion picture travel art ever flashed on an Oil City screen afforded pleasure, instruction and recreation for two packed houses at the Opera House Thursday. "A Trip to New York," the premier release of the Famous Cities Motion Picture Co. afforded unadulterated delight in every change of scene. There were 500 in all and the subjects included everything from the Brooklyn bridge to Riverside drive. All the famous piles that distinguish the nation's metropolis were shown. The films were new and clear. Oil City Tribune.

The same show will be at the Sixth Street Theatre Friday and Saturday.

SUES FORMER PASTOR.

Akron Widow Declares Ritchie Reneged on Marriage Proposal.
Akron, O., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Zella M. Gilbert, thirty six and pretty, who filed a breach of promise suit against Rev. George D. Ritchie, former Baptist minister, asking $10,000, said she valued her heart at several millions. Ritchie, she said, was getting off cheap at $1000 for breaking it.

"Mr. Ritchie was the most ardent bear I ever had," Mrs. Gilbert declared. "He denies that he proposed marriage to me, but I've been married twice and I ought to know a proposal when I hear one. He even said we would go to Paris Beach to spend our honeymoon, and asked my dressmaker if she could dress me well enough to appear there."

Ritchie left the ministry six years ago and entered the real estate business. He denies all charges of Mrs. Gilbert's petition.

Squelches a Fake.
Rome, Feb. 3.—Ex-Premier Giovanni Giolitti denies reports of a plot to overthrow the cabinet with the object of averting Italian intervention in the war and securing the Trentino, said to have been offered by Austria through Prince Von Beulow, German ambassador here, as compensation.

Earthquakes Subside.
Ponta Delgada, Azores, Feb. 3.—The earthquakes which had been felt on the island of St. Michaels at intervals since the recent disturbance in Italy apparently have subsided. The inhabitants of Villa Franca De Campo, who fled from the town, are returning to their homes.

Earthquake Shakes England.
London, Feb. 3.—Earth shocks occurred in a number of districts in Yorkshire. One miner was killed and many had narrow escapes owing to the shaking down of the coal pits.

COMPENSATION LAW TO STAND

Committee Shelves Bill Initiated by Insurance Companies.

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Every member of the house labor committee voted to postpone indefinitely the initiated bill which sought to permit liability insurance companies to compete with the state in workmen's compensation insurance. The recommendation of the committee is likely to seal the fate of the bill.

"This simply means the carrying out of our party pledges," said Representative Henry Ott of Cincinnati in seconding the motion of Representative Chapman for burial of the bill.

Long discussions, during which liability insurance company speakers charged that the state compensation insurance fund was insolvent and that a state monopoly was repugnant to the spirit of the American government, featured the hearing before the committee. E. W. Dryson of Columbus, was among the proponents of the initiated measure.

Opposition to the measure was unique in that union labor representatives and officials of the Ohio Manufacturers' association joined hands in favor of continuation of the present workmen's compensation system. Secretary Malcolm Jennings and General Counsel D. J. Ryan of the manufacturers urged that the system be given a thorough try-out before change.

In California, where women vote, the wages of the women clerks in the civil service have been made equal to those of the men. In England the postal service has just spent $5,000,000 raising the pay of its men clerks and has at the same time reduced the pay of its women clerks so that they now get half what the men do.—Women's Political World.

Wisconsin claims the banner in its forward march of training women for agriculture. At its agricultural college six women registered for the short course from the following States: Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York.

Stahley Is Nosed Out by Johnston

A foul on Stahley and Johnston finishing without a break resulted in the latter winning a match on the Park View alleys Wednesday night by a margin of 12 pins. In the five games Johnston rolled a total of 846 to Stahley's 834. Johnston rolled with consistency while Stahley showed up like an "in and out."

In the first game Stahley, finishing the game with six straight strikes rolled 221 and secured a lead of 70 over Johnston who only negotiated 151. Stahley came back with 110 while Johnston made a part of the lead by getting 171. Stahley stayed far from the head pin in the third game and finished with 119 when Johnston went into the lead with 174. In the fourth game Stahley evened up the game by getting 172 to Johnston's 160 but in the last game when Stahley had a good chance of winning he fouled and lost what amounted to 14 pins. He finished with 182 and Johnston rolled 190. The score: J. 151 171 174 160 190 846 S. 221 140 119 172 182 834

Ban Placed On Booze.
South Bend, Ind., Feb. 3.—As a result of an agreement entered into by several of South Bend's leading manufacturers not to employ men or women who drink intoxicating liquors, John Barleycorn has been given a staggering blow in this city. As soon as all the manufacturers fall in line and sign the agreement a systematic campaign will be made to bring about a wet and dry election for the city.

Wants Court Abolished.
Lorain, O., Feb. 3.—City Auditor George N. Damon cast a bomb into Lorain official circles when he presented to council a resolution asking the state legislature to repeal the law creating the Lorain criminal court. He argues the court's expensive and that there is not more than two hours work a day for the judge.

Wolves Devour Wounded Soldiers.
Rome, Feb. 3.—Austrian troops in the Carpathians are suffering intensely from cold. Many soldiers have been frost bitten. Ten wounded and dead are being devoured by wolves, which attack outlying posts. The soldiers are often compelled to use their machine guns on the wolves to defend themselves.

French Life Sidefights Described

BY P. M. SARLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 3.—(By Mail to New York).—Sidefights of trench life are amusingly described in the following extracts from the diary of an officer in the Bedfordshire regiment:—"Sunday. Another horrid wet day. Church parade in the courtyard of the C. O.'s (commanding officer) billet—principally hymns which attracted a curious crowd. I cannot say that the singing, well meant and certainly hearty, as it was, would have attracted me very far on a wet day.

"This next sentence should be written in capitals, as it is in my mind. Had a lovely hot bath at the convent. Rum place to go for a bath, wasn't it? Anyway, I met a clean looking fellow who said he had bathed there, so I summoned up my courage and rang the bell, and in my best French asked the lady who appeared if I could book my turn later in the morning.

When I eventually turned up on the stroke of time, I found I was only just in time to forestall a total stranger who was trying in execrable French to assure the sister that I was his great friend and that I had booked for him. That boy—he was a subaltern—should get high up in the army. I hope to see him swung off myself, for his barefaced audacity. If the good lady had been able to understand his French—she mercifully was not equal to the task—he's have had that bath too.

Anyway, I got it, and thoroughly enjoyed it—came out looking rather pale, I expect, as it was my first real wash worth speaking since we left England. Jolly sporting of those nuns, I think. Their poor-box does suffer over it either. My enjoyment was somewhat marred by the subaltern, in no way embarrassed, importuning me through the door to hurry up as he had managed to 'pinch' the turn of the next fellow booked after me.

"Wednesday. This time we are in local support—some 400 yards behind the trenches. Our billets are in a farmhouse, one of the few that have not been flattened out by a shell. It is sure to catch one sooner or later. Hope it does not arrive during our three days here. I secured a bed with a spring mattress which apparently suffered from indigestion. Not so much Machiavellian diplomacy required to secure the bed this time as usual, owing to the fact that it lies across, and on the level of, a window which faces towards the Germans and is plentifully punctured with bullet holes. Well anyway, it's comfy, and I'll hope for the best.

"Thursday. A very pleasant and restful day, wet of course. Did a little foraging in the farms along the road, running parallel to and about 400 yards behind the firing line. Borrowed some potatoes and some leeks from what was once a garden. Also there was a chicken (courtesy title) for dinner; I think it must have followed us home. They shelled this line of roadway a good deal this morning, but never seemed to drop them where we were, not that I am complaining of inattention.

"I am now sitting here in positive comfort after lunch writing to my mother and children, visited came in late for lunch. He is one of those weak, dapper fellows in ordinary life, but now he is apparently playing a medal round with a slippery lump of butter. It never will stick long enough on his knife to carry the bunkers, and he is using most horrid language. I should judge he is about seven down on bogey and by the color I should say he requires a new ball.

"There is also by the way, a pig here. I rather fancy from the way it follows one about, obviously trying to speak, that its feelings of appreciation of the Entente is so warm as to make it meditate accompanying us down to the trenches tomorrow, murmuring to itself (it looks a learned pig) Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori. Possible it will come, it has a patriotic sort of face, but, as is so often the case with a true patriot, has rather a miserable odour.

"We also acquired by the horridly antiquated and mercenary method of purchase some alleged bread and butter. After sampling a portion of the former we gave the rest to the patriotic pig, who I was distressed to find is absolutely determined to die for his country by one method or another. I wonder if a pig defunct from natural causes, such as acute indigestion, is so succulent as a pig self-immolated in the hot flames of patriotic fervour. Possibly the chef at theitz may knock—anyway, we will all knock is a day or two."

London, Feb. 3.—(By Mail to New York).—"What I would do with the Kaiser," was the subject given to the young pupils of a girl's school at Hitchin on which to write essays. Following are extracts from some of the resulting efforts:
"I would banish him to St. Helena, and there he would think he was king of the world."
"If I were to catch him I would turn him over to the police."
"I would take him to Belgium and make him build up everything he has destroyed, and I would see that he did it properly."
"I would have him mustache pulled out by the roots."

The first prize was awarded for this one:
"I should bury him as cheaply as possible."

PEARL

The Fresno Ladies' Aid met at Frank Swigerts on Thursday and an enjoyable afternoon was spent by about 25 ladies. Guests were Mrs. Edward Boyd, Mrs. Grover Eutlich, Mrs. Mary Swigert, Misses Edith Swigert and Clara Bender.

James Leavengood is sawing the lumber for his new home in Pearl.

The mumps have invaded the ranks of the heads of families. Among those afflicted are Arthur Hothem, John Layman, Mrs. Gouter and Mrs. Rowe.

The Juniors have about all recovered. Mrs. Salome Schumaker of Canton, has been visiting friends here for a few days.

John Olinger made a business trip to Coshooton, last week. Victor Hothem, of Mill Creek is spending a couple of weeks with his brother, Arthur.

Mrs. Mary Graham, who suffered a paralytic stroke at the home of her father, Henry Thomas, is slightly improved.

Raise More Per Acre Advice of Gov. Willis

Columbus, C., Feb. 3.—"You won't be able to lower the high cost of living by commissions. You will have to become more efficient on the farm and raise more per acre," said Governor Willis to over 1800 students at Ohio State university, including 1000 farmers who are attending farmers' week, Wednesday.

All past records were broken for attendance in farmers' week when the total registration figures went above the 1000 mark Wednesday morning. Indications point to the fact that over 1200 will be registered by evening.

Dr. Carl Cay of the University of Pennsylvania addressed the Percheron Breeders' association Wednesday afternoon. Following his talk O. E. Bradtke, member of the university board of trustees and breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle at Xenia, lectured on "Beef Cattle."

In the morning Dr. Brunley of the college of veterinary medicine, spoke on roup and explained the new serum which the college had prepared to offset this contagious disease which costs the state over a million dollars a year.

A new patriarch who will have the honor of being the oldest man registered Wednesday morning. He is S. J. Woolley of 152 West Woodruff avenue, and is interested in electricity on the farm. Woolley is 88 years old and is the oldest man ever registered in the university.

Many families are to be found in the persons who are attending the lectures this week. Mrs. H. G. Young is one of these parties. She is the grandmother of Howard Young, 27, who with his wife, Mrs. Howard Young, and their five-months-old son, Walter Linsley, Young, are attending the lectures in horticulture.

"I am going to bring Walter here to these lectures each year and when he gets old enough I am going to send him to the university and give him an education in agriculture," said the father of the youngest student Wednesday.

TONSILS REMOVED.
Lorenzo Hooker, aged 12, underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils and adenoids at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hagans on the Otsego road Wednesday. The patient's condition Wednesday night was reported to be satisfactory. Drs. McClain and L. C. McCurdy performed the operation.

LAYING DOWN THE LAW TO LAND MONOPOLISTS

Land speculators of Houston, Texas, organized as the Harris County Taxpayers' Association, are threatening to go into court with a view to securing a decision that will put an end to the city's prosperity. Under the system of taxation established in the city by Tax Commissioner J. J. Pastoriza, it has thrived more than any other city in Texas.

Under the Houston system personal property is not assessed at all, buildings and other improvements are only assessed at 25 per cent. of their value and land values are assessed at their fair value. The city has consequently had a building boom, house rents have decreased, bank deposits increased and business has flourished. But it has so increased the taxes of vacant lot owners that some of them have threatened court action. They do not aim to enforce taxation of all property, but to tax improvements as high as land values.

Now, however, they have received, warning from H. F. Ring, one of Texas' most prominent lawyers. He tells these speculators that, should they go into court, he will make use of his right to intervene and will ask not merely equal taxation of land and improvements, but of bank deposits, mortgages and all other property. He says further:

"If a few disgruntled taxpayers constituting less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the citizens of Houston can hold up the city and delay work on needed improvements, while men wanting work, and their wives and children are starving for want of work, if this can be done because an infinitesimal part of the taxpayers of Houston want building improvements assessed higher, and heavier fines imposed on manufacturers, merchants, home owners and employers generally; if this is the game, I am in it for all it is worth. I know of no better opportunity than one which a row of this kind in the courts affords for bringing home to the citizens of Texas generally the necessity of a common sense amendment to our state constitution regarding taxation."

When I got hold of those lots at Eastwood Place 10 years ago, they were worth $50 a lot. Today I am selling them for $600 to $750 a lot. This is simply legalized robbery. Who has increased the value of these vacant lots from $50 apiece to $600? Not I. The increase has been made by the energy and enterprise of all the people of Houston, notably by the enterprise of its merchants, manufacturers and others who have employed labor. I have never employed labor to amount to anything. I have been a mere parasite, reaping for my personal benefit where others have sown. And every child born in Houston and every person who has moved here has added value to these lots without the slightest industry or effort of my part. It strikes me that I would be a sick kind of a patriot to whine about a slight increase of my taxes, caused by a system which slightly lessens the burden of the merchant, the manufacturer, the builder and the home owner, without whose industry and enterprise my lots would never have increased in value to the extent of one red cent.

There is another view of the subject, however, which must appeal to all sensible and conservative citizens from the purely selfish standpoint of the owner of vacant lots. What is needed to increase the value of our vacant lands is a great and thriving city. Consider for a moment the things which make for a great and growing city. Enormous bank deposits will help. What will tend to decrease bank deposits and even break banks and bankrupt merchants and manufacturers more than the knowledge that every dollar on deposit on the first day of January will be subject to a city tax? Who, even among the Taxpayers' Association, would fail to withdraw most of his deposits before that fatal day came around, and what bank in Houston could stand the strain thus imposed?

We want manufacturers. What will tend to draw them

PROHIBITION
By WALT MASON

In Russia none can buy a flagon of vodka or old rye; the men must ride the water wagon—the country's all gone dry. The law affects all grades of citizens, the humble and the rich; and those who lately sipped their bitters now hit the pumpovitch. The ills of western prohibition you'll look for there in vain; you will not find there a condition that one might see in Maine. There's no relief for thirsty beggars, no help for Russian sports, the alleys know no cheap bootleggers, no hole-in-wall resorts. The oldtime tricks that lead to drinking won't work there worth a cent: a man may sprain his eyebrows winking; the druggist won't relent. Old Russia's brand of law prohibits, in country and in town, and soon her prisons and her gibbets will all be taken down. If some one hasn't told a whopper, about conditions there, the country soon won't have a pauper, which had them everywhere. The world will watch this Russian measure, so timely and so wise. 'Twill watch, and doubtless note with pleasure a nation nobly rise, from abject depths of degradation, from lying in the ditch; oh, happy that progressive nation which hits the pumpovitch!

here more than the fact that buildings and machinery which give employment to labor, are assessed low?

We want office buildings and store buildings and dwelling houses and cheaper rents for merchants, who employ labor and for workers who live in rented houses. What will tend to increase the number of such improvements and thereby lessen rents more than moderate assessments on buildings?

We want cheap money—at low rates of interest. What will tend to give it to us more than the fact that credits, mere evidences of wealth, are overlooked in the city tax assessor's office and double taxation thereby avoided?

We want an honest citizenship. We don't want a lot of men and women practically compelled in self-defense to commit perjury every time they swear to an assessment roll as would be the case if we required the rendition for taxation of money, credits and personal property. Let me put this question to the most honest and conscientious member of the Taxpayers' Association:

Will you, sir, agree, if an attempt is earnestly made to enforce the present law relating to taxation, to render as the law requires a true and complete list of all your personal property at its fair value, including your household furniture, books, bric-a-brac, the jewels worn by your wife, money on hand, or in bank in Houston or elsewhere, and a correct list of the notes and evidences of indebtedness owed by you, and your stocks and bonds? Is there one among the Taxpayers' Association who would not rather stand the present plan of Houston than honestly make out such a list and swear to it? If so let us hear from you."

It is safe to say that Mr. Ring's challenge will receive few, if any, responses from the so-called Taxpayers' Association.

The Agricultural Department says in view of the fact that there are a million and a quarter more cattle in the country than there were a year ago there is no reason for the predicted advance in price. But has the supply of cattle anything to do with the price of meat?

A lot of gentlemen of the standpat variety are expressing great concern about President Wilson putting himself out of the running for 1916, but the thing they are really worried about is who they will run against him.

This country isn't going to have war with England or Germany or Japan or any other nation, Mr. Hobson and Mr. Lodge to the contrary notwithstanding. They all have a sufficiency of troubles of their own now.

The Turks seem all enthused about their ability to organize a "holy" war. If they succeed they will have done something the Christian nations have failed to do.

When you ask the opinion of an honest man take it, even if it gives you a shock. A moral jar now and then won't come amiss in the case of most of us.

The Wise Guys says: the only way some women can successfully keep a secret is to keep it going.

WAR

fore the United States becomes involved in the contest.

Appeals to Von Bernstorff.

Venecore, Me., Feb. 3.—Werner Van Horn, who attempted to blow up the railway bridge here yesterday, today appealed to the German ambassador at Washington, Count Von Bernstorff. He told the latter that he had not been on Canadian soil and asked for protection from extradition to Canada.

He was arrested yesterday after attempting to blow up the Canadian end of the railway bridge between this town and St. Croix. He was carefully guarded at the immigration office throughout the night.

No formal charge had been preferred against Van Horn, who said he was an officer in the German army and that he had exploded the dynamite as an act of war. He made no objection to his detention in custody of a county deputy sheriff, but insisted that he had committed no offense for which he could be extradited to Canada.

Under the auspices of Canadian officials a court session was held last night at McAdam Junction, just across the New Brunswick border, at which testimony was given before a police magistrate who later issued a warrant against Van Horn.

Renew Fight at Soissons.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Fierce hand-to-hand combats in the region of St. Paul mark the launching of a new German onslaught to force the passage of the Aisne at Soissons, less than sixty miles from Paris.

French Moroccan troops, stationed on the outskirts of St. Paul on the north bank of the Aisne, have repulsed three successive charges by General Von Kluck's infantry. They routed a small force of Germans that made the first assault upon their positions, driving them back upon the German lines near Crony and taking several prisoners.

Following the failure of this night attack Von Kluck sent up reinforcements. A small force of Moroccans, entrenched behind the ruins of some devastated farmhouses, were forced to give ground. Falling back up the main French positions they joined in a counter attack that sent the Germans fleeing in disorder.

least bombardment of the bridge held by the French on the north bank of the river and dropped occasional shells into Soissons. Reinforcements are being rushed across the Soissons bridge to the support of the battalions at St. Paul.

Latest advices described the German assaults as a determined effort to drive the French from the north bank of the river.

The Flanders fighting engaged the attention of the war office. The Germans were directing fresh attacks against the Belgians near Ypres and bombarding the allies' lines between Ypres and the coast.

Kaiser to Inspect Fleet.

Berlin, Feb. 3.—Emperor William left for Wilhelmshaven, the second most important naval station in Germany, to inspect the warships stationed there. He will have an opportunity to look over the units of the squadron which participated in the North Sea battle, including the Seydlitz, which was squarely hit by one shell, and the Kolberg, which was struck by two. The emperor, who already has visited both the west and east fronts, will complete his inspection of the empire's armed forces by visiting the units of the newly organized armies still garrisoned in Germany.

Turks Driven Back.
Berlin, Feb. 3.—Fighting between the English and Turks continues at Kurna, according to a dispatch from Bagdad, which describes a night attack made by 200 Turks. Two English battalions posted on opposite sides of the town, the dispatch says, became confused and fired on each other for several hours. The Turks were driven back at daybreak by the fire from two British gunboats.

Ambulances Ready.
Washington, Feb. 3.—The seventeen automobile ambulances donated by Harvard and Yale students have been turned over to the American Red Cross and will be shipped to Europe in the near future for service on the battlefields. The ambulances are khaki covered and bear a huge red cross on a field of white. They are fully equipped for Red Cross work.

Australians Win Skirmish.
Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 3.—Australian troops were victorious over a detachment of Turkish soldiers in a skirmish near Nachl on the caravan route between Suez and El Akaba, according to advices received here. The Turks are said to have retreated, leaving thirty dead and wounded on the field.

Russians Sink German Gunboat.

the German coast; also hit and seriously damaged a small cruiser of the Gazelle type, possibly the Gazelle herself.

Germans Occupy Angola.
Berlin, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Lisbon says: "Reinforcements have been sent to Angola, as the Germans now occupy the greater part of that colony."

PARIS GAY AGAIN AS HER CITIZENS RETURN

Streets Crowded and Schools Reopen After Months.

Paris.—Paris is filling up again and appears to be getting back some small signs of being her old self. Her streets are fuller, shops are reopening here and there, the cafe terraces are less deserted, and the arrivals of whole families from the provinces grow in number daily. It is estimated that from a quarter to half a million people have returned within the last fortnight.

Reasons for the return are not far to seek. In the first place, the fear of being shut up in a beleaguered city is so greatly diminished as hardly to count in the calculations of those who fled when those "terrible Germans" were practically under our walls. Winter is coming on, and life in a metropolis in winter, especially when one is in one's own familiar home, is preferable to the discomforts and rigors of an unknown countryside or provincial town. Schools have reopened, and parents naturally wish to be with their boys and girls at this important period.

Bombs from the enemy's Taubes are still ugly possibilities, to be sure, but reflection has led people to see that the chance of their being the individuals victimized is so small in a city of nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants as to be negligible.

Consequently, though half or more of the shops are shut and nearly all the hotels are shut, though there are no motorbuses, the city is beginning to look normal again, the sidewalks are crowded save at the sacred hour of déjeuner, and while the cafes are open, which is until 8 p. m., they are nearly as thronged as in the antebellum days.

FINDS VOLCANIC REEF.

Old Whaler Discovers Ledge Where Chart Calls For Plenty of Water.

San Francisco.—A remarkable phenomenon in Alaskan waters is reported by Captain C. T. Pedersen, an old whaler and explorer, who returned to San Francisco a few days ago from the far north.

He says that on the chart the depth of the stretch of water between Hoon Island and Amakook Island is given as nine and a half fathoms, while now there are only two fathoms to be had at high water. Volcanic eruptions probably caused the reef to spring up, Captain Pedersen says.

EAGLE BOARDS SHIP; FIGHTS.

Though Exhausted by Long Flight, It Injures Two of Crew.

Philadelphia.—When the Longscar, the British tramp steamship, came into port from Huelva, Spain, her crew told how a brown feathered eagle measuring five feet from wing to wing had come on board in an exhausted condition when 150 miles from the Delaware capes and had given two of the crew a good fight before it was captured. Bontswain Smith had a cut over his left eye, and Seaman Hughes' right hand was scratched and cut.

The eagle was seen astern Monday morning, and after a three hour flight it seemed to spurt itself for a final dash and landed on the foremast. Smith went to pick the bird up, when it turned on him. The fight followed.

Encouraging.
A lady advanced in age and in a declining state of health went, by the advice of the physician, to take lodgings in a village near the metropolis. She agreed for a suit of rooms and, coming downstairs, observed that the balustrades were much out of repair.

"These," said the lady, "must be mended before I can think of coming to live here."
"Oh, no, madam," replied the landlady, "that would answer no purpose, as the undertaker's men in bringing down the coffin would break them again immediately."

Cold Snap
Stops Rise

At midnight Wednesday the water was reported to be off the Rosebe road. The Canal Lewisville road however, remains submerged with prospects that it will not be clear of water before night.

Both the Tascarawas and Walhonding, following the cold snap, are falling.

Bones Broken
But Johnnie is Still Unkissed

Moultrie, Ga., Feb. 3.—John Radcliff is flat on his back in bed with his right arm and three ribs broken, but he doesn't care, he says, for his hurts are the honorable badges of his unkissed state. For John, who is 16 and large for his age, makes the proud boast that no woman's lips have yet pressed his and what is more, are not going to be. Winifred Trice heard John's boast at a barn dance and tried to catch him and kiss him. John was hard put to it to escape, but did so by falling out the hay loft door.

Child Discipline.
It is bitter medicine, but the one thing needed most in the human soul is discipline.

It is well to have force, genius, vigor, enthusiasm, love, power, but you may have them and be a criminal, a maniac or a cad. You become great only when to these you add self control.

The latest movement in education is toward developing the initiative of the child. This can hardly be carried too far. And the old, stupid method of thwarting, denying and browbeating little ones just for the sake of discipline cannot be too roundly condemned.

But for all that there is danger that in our new eagerness to lead and bring out the child's forces we may forget the prime need of strengthening his self denial.—Dr. Frank Crane in Woman's World.

Pure Food Bills Go Over.
Washington, Feb. 3.—Various bills to strengthen the pure food laws, the McKellar bill, to regulate cold storage, and the administration bill to supply lapses in the commodities clause of the interstate commerce law, developed in court decisions, were put over to the next session in the house because of the pressure of other legislation to be handled before March 4.

Leaps to His Death.
New York, Feb. 3.—Because he feared he was going blind, Frederick Johnson of Port Richmond, Staten Island, jumped from the fifth floor of the Manhattan Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat hospital, killing himself. Johnson had been watched for the past few days because of his queer actions, but he overpowered his guards when they tried to prevent him taking his life.

MISS LUCY BURLERSON

BOTTOM NOT RISING.

Colonel Goethals Denies Rumors About Panama Canal.

New York, Feb. 3.—Just before sailing for Panama Colonel Goethals said:

"The report that the bottom of the canal is rising on account of pressure on the bank, is believed wholly unfounded. The filling up of the spaces already dredged is, I am convinced, wholly due to the fact that this particular soil when exposed to water saturates, turns into fluid mud and moves across the canal bottom under the pressure of the descending, pushing earth behind."

"It is my intention to keep up the dredging until a bay is formed on the Gold Hill side that will absorb any future slips on that side. The question of slides as a whole must be dealt with in that way, namely, as they may occur."

"Everything is working well. The locks operate without a hitch. The lake has eighty-five feet of water. The trees that looked so melancholy as the rising water gained on them have nearly all disappeared. Our first trouble there was from floating islands."

"In certain places as the waters rose they dragged up from the bottom growths of interwoven shrubs which attracted logs and trees, and these becoming the sport of the winds drifted hither and thither with a fresh vegetation springing cheerfully up on them."

"The spillway, which was the cause of so much critical misgiving, has stood the test and the pressure magnificently."

"For tourists and visitors generally Panama remains the attractive end of the canal. The cool air and morning breezes of Colon are of course delightful, and the new hotel is attractive and well kept, but the old Spanish town keeps its superior attractiveness."

Seek Van Horne's Extradition.
Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The Dominion government has taken prompt steps to secure the extradition from the United States of Werner Van Horne, who attempted to blow up the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge at St. Croix. The justice department has sent the formal application for Van Horne's surrender to Washington, and as soon as the United States government admits that Canada has a prima facie case the evidence against Van Horne will be submitted to an extradition court in Maine. If Van Horne is extradited it will be on the charge of having committed in Canada a criminal offense which endangered human life.

Peaceful Shipping Warned.
Amsterdam, Feb. 3.—Dispatches from Berlin quote the following statement from the German admiralty: "England is about to ship to France a large number of troops and a great quantity of war material. We shall act against these transports with all the military means at our disposal. Peaceful shipping is urgently warned against approaching the northwest coasts of France owing to the serious danger, as they may be confused with ships serving warlike purposes. Ships to North sea ports are recommended to take the route north of Scotland."

Raynolds Passes Away.
Akron, O., Feb. 3.—Thomas C. Raynolds, sixty-six, died at his home here following a long illness. He began his newspaper work on the Detroit Post. His widow and one son, W. W. Raynolds, a newspaper man of Cleveland, survive. For a number of years he was publicity man for the Republican state committee.

NINE KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Six Others Badly Burned in Boarding House Disaster.

Kane, Pa., Feb. 3.—Nine men were killed and six badly burned in a fire, following an explosion, which destroyed a boarding house at Mayburg, a small town in Forest county. The injured were brought to the hospital here.

The men, mostly wanderers, of whom little was known by the company, were employed in the forests as woodmen, and at night slept in the cheese cloth lined frame building erected for them. The house was heated by gas, and, it is believed, increased pressure in the mains caused an explosion, which fired the building.

The nearest town, Sheffield, is eighteen miles away, and medical aid was hours in reaching the injured. Only one occupant of the building escaped uninjured.

The identified dead are Henri Stanislaus and Bertini Marosini, both Macedonians, and the identified injured Ludovic Martilli and Henri Marzan.

Walters Discloses Methods of State Banking Department.

Columbus, Feb. 3.—That big sums were paid to various Ohio attorneys, among them former state legislators, for service in liquidating banks, was brought to light before the legislative committee appointed to probe the state bank department. Former Bank Superintendent George Walters, who succeeded Superintendent Lattanner the first of the year, was one of the witnesses. Reading from the records, he testified that Congressman Timothy T. Ansberry of Defiance received $100 "expense money" from the liquidating bureau of the department for services in Louisiana in connection with the collection of a note, during the liquidation of the Columbus Savings and Trust company. Mr. Ansberry made a trip to Louisiana with former Senator W. N. Shaffer of Paulding county, chief of the liquidating department, and Mr. Walters said that he knew of no necessity for two men taking such a trip for the Bureau.

Another feature he brought to light was that Robert Black of Cincinnati and Carl D. Friebolin of Cleveland, while filling the positions of state senator and representative, respectively, were employed by the banking department in connection with liquidation of various banks, and were paid fees for the work, despite a state law forbidding legislators from being employed by a state department. Friebolin received $2,107 for services in the liquidation of the Amersat Banking company, and employed his law partner, E. S. Byers, for which the latter received $467, Mr. Walters testified.

Ira Mizer of Orange called on

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 3.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of the German empire, in an address here tonight argued that the logical sequence in the inter-nation of trade between Germany and the United States, through Great Britain's command of the sea, both transportation and communication, is that "the war with Germany is a war against the United States."

The speaker, who is making a series of addresses, told tonight of the commercial embarrassments suffered by Germany and the effects upon neutral countries.

After reviewing the resources of this country and describing it as the chief purveyor to the world of oil, lumber, cotton and copper, Dr. Dernburg told of the situation in Germany, where approximately 70,000,000 people are living in a territory not larger than California, which means, he said, about thirty-five Germans to one Californian in the same area.

The country, he said, was rich only in coal and potash, so far as natural resources are concerned. "So that German genius," he said, "has had to be applied in the manufacture of highly finished goods, importing raw stuffs not only for manufacturing purposes, but also for home consumption."

"On this basis, an enormous trade has been established between the United States and my country. Of cotton no fewer than 2,500,000 bales have been purchased here in the past year. In copper, Germany is the best customer of the United States. Of wood and lumber her purchases in this country have been constantly increasing."

Dr. Dernburg, supported by figures issued by the department of commerce, told how these imports have been paid for through an exchange for commodities such as fertilizers, dyes, toys and innumerable smaller articles which Germany by the most perfected system of applied science and technique is able to turn out cheaply and in good quality.

"The stopping of German competition on the sea means a loss of $500,000,000 to the people of the United States," said the speaker, and it was in this connection that he declared a war with Germany was against this country.

He spoke at length of Great Britain's intentions in relation to conditional contraband, declaring that country had reversed the doctrine that when conditional contraband stopped the burden rests upon the export to prove that the goods were destined for the use of the armies or navies of adversaries.

He declared that by the reversal of the recognized doctrines relating to contraband England hoped to starve Germany at home. In this connection he said:

"And while the English will probably be balked in this ingenious device by the action of the United States as well as by German threat that will supplement the needed quantities from other sources, it is a fair example of the spirit in which the English conduct their warfare."

"The uncertainty of the status of conditional contraband is doing untold harm to a number of people in these states, and is largely responsible for the fearful increase in unemployment."

After enumerating Great Britain's sea fortifications, including "a fringe of islands all around the United States," and her control of transatlantic communication, Dr. Dernburg said:

"Not a word of uncensored news, even regarding markets or market conditions, can get through, and the United States is completely isolated from the rest of the world."

"The food-panic that has proven its worth for forty years—is Scott's Emulsion. It drives out the cold, which is the root of the trouble, and checks the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes."

"If you are troubled with bronchitis or know an afflicted friend, always remember that Scott's Emulsion builds strength while relieving the trouble."

When the bronchial tubes are affected with that weakening, tickling cough, they need immediate and sensible treatment. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present and your head jars with every cough. Your chest aches and the inflammation often spreads to the lungs.

The food-panic that has proven its worth for forty years—is Scott's Emulsion. It drives out the cold, which is the root of the trouble, and checks the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

"If you are troubled with bronchitis or know an afflicted friend, always remember that Scott's Emulsion builds strength while relieving the trouble."

Hot Tea Breaks a Cold—Try This

Get a small package of Hamburger Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tea-cup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

would be were she in the moon. And this system not only disturbs the United States, but all the neutrals, especially those who, without great natural resources, draw a great deal of their national sustenance from their sea traffic. So the Scandinavians probably suffer as much as any belligerent country.

"But the worst of this state of things is that it will not be confined to the time of war. It must be expected that the consequences will reach far into the time when the business shall have been re-established; because if a trade is once dislocated and a customer lost it is hard to get him back again."

"If the source of supply is cut off for any considerable time, the customer will provide himself from some other source, or try to produce the needed article himself, thereby becoming independent as Germany is now forced to do."

"If she cannot get American wheat, she must cut eye. If she cannot get lumber, she must use steel or cement, or some other substance. If she cannot get copper, she must help herself with alloys of cheaper metals."

"If she cannot get cotton, she must go back to the use of flax. There won't be a patch of Germany, which is capable of bearing anything, that will not be cultivated this year in order to make her independent. If she does not like it, she has nevertheless got to continue doing it in order not to lose the investment, the use of those substances."

Paris, Feb. 3.—Periodicals containing the text of Pope Benedict's prayer for peace, which he had directed should be read in all churches on Feb. 7, were seized on Sunday by the police of the department of the Seine, according to the Figaro. The incident was soon settled, however, after explanations had been given the authorities by Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, and the embargo was withdrawn.

The motives for the seizure were not announced but it is believed, the Figaro says, that the government feared the expression of hope for an early peace might be misinterpreted by the public and have a depressing effect upon opinion.

A dispatch from Rome says Pope Benedict was informed today by Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, of the reported action of the French police in regard to the papal prayer. The pope and the cardinal discussed the situation for an hour and a telegraphic request for full information was sent to Paris.

It was said at the vatican that the papal prayer contained no expressions which would warrant the French authorities in taking any action. The pope's desire is for "a speedy, lasting peace," not a peace which would be "humiliating for one side and triumphant for the other."

The vatican considers there is no reason for apprehension lest the hope for an early peace expressed in the prayer might have a depressing effect upon public opinion and diminish the energy of the French people. Catholics in all countries, both laymen and ecclesiastics, it is asserted, have distinguished themselves by their patriotism and willingness to sacrifice their lives and property for their respective lands; and in this performance of duty, it is pointed out, they have had the full support of the clergy. Pope Benedict has done everything possible to demonstrate the neutrality of the holy see. It is at the vatican that his only desire is to assist in shortening the war and in alleviating the suffering caused by the conflict.

Believes Truth Will Boom Ohio

Beef and butter, milk and meat make red blood. Live stock is an agricultural corner stone. Ohio has less live stock on tax list than a quarter century ago.

In fifteen years our population increased 23 million. Our food supply did not increase a pound or bushel. Red lights are ahead. As live stock decrease soil fertility escapes. Crop yields per acre decline, and demand for commercial fertilizer increases ten fold.

A light shines in the dark. Ohio has an army of six thousand men growing pure bred live stock. The truth will boom Ohio. We lead the nation in good animals. We fail to advertise. Put the truth in capital letters and Ohio will become the Mecca and nation at cross roads, of those seeking high class sirens and dams.

Ohio stockmen are not welded Union is strength.

If they would organize, co-operate, and present a solid front, they could levy toll and tribute on the world.

The live stock industry is standing at the front door of a new era. Prices will go higher.

Agricultural colleges, fairs and farmer institutes are eliminating the "scrub" and "plug" and creating an imperative demand for pure bred foundation stock.

Let Ohioans proclaim always
